Happy Birthday

Many happy returns to Robert, Lyndsey, Norman, Liam and Declan. (It was Lyndsey and Megan's Birthdays on the same day). Unfortunately Norman and Liam's Birthdays fell over a weekend so we didn't get pictures.

Lookout for more details!!

Jenny enjoying a session of rebound therapy.

A wee thumbs up to let you know how good it is!

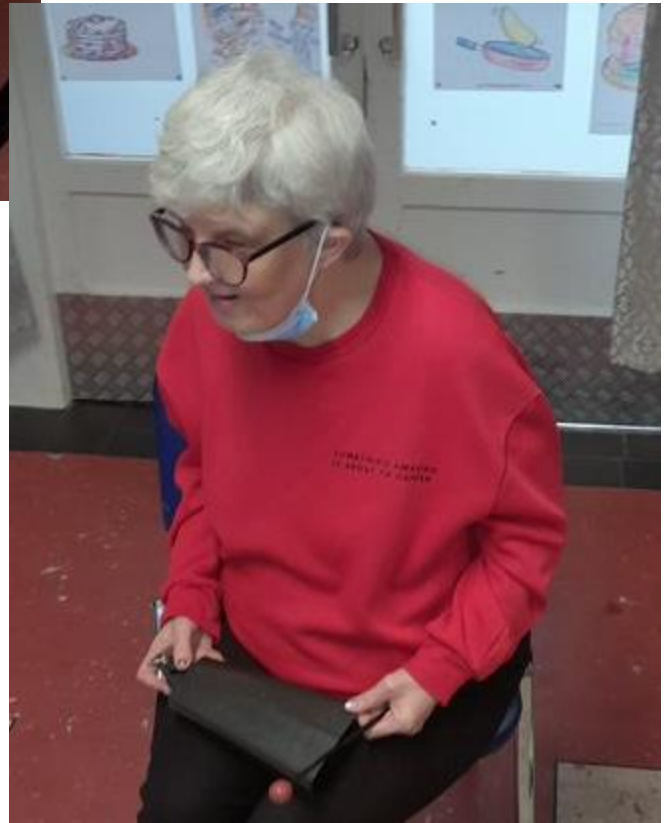

Hugh on the right enjoying his session!

The service users enjoy taking part in the hand chimes activities but as well as hand chimes they also play other instruments. The following pictures are of our service users with some of those instruments.

Theresa below playing the cow bell.

Alan on the left with the tambourine

Ryan on the bongo drums

happy Valentines

Theresa concentrating on creating a decorated heart for her Valentine!

I think Alexander's making a fabulous job of his!
Don't you?

Being creative must be thirsty work!

Valentines Day memorable and fun for the service users. She did a wonderful job of it! This is Natasha (Blue Cardigan) and Megan preparing some gifts for the Service Users and their families. All handmade of course!

As usual whenever there's artistic stuff going on there's a wee bit of mess....

All of the ingredients assembled for Pancake Day. All that's needed now is the enthusiasm we've come to expect!

Our Chefs for the day were Brian and Tyler....

Mark and Linda waiting patiently to start putting their favourite ingredients on their pancakes.....

Sheree, looks as though she's loving her pancake!

Susan being helped by Donna.....

Mmmmmmm..... Neil's look delicious!

I think it's clear that Theresa is thoroughly enjoying hers, don't you?

Following a thorough Risk Assessment, we have introduce new “drop off” zones in the carpark. This is to help to keep people safe from being injured by other vehicles.

Please do not walk across the car park unless absolutely necessary. These areas have been designated for your care and safety.
